

Keeping People Safe: Safeguarding Adults Report May 2009

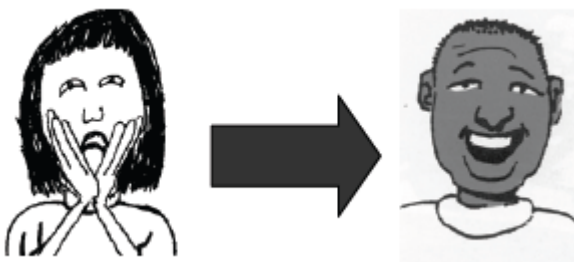

This report is about what has happened with keeping people safe (Safeguarding) from April 2008 to April 2009 from the Community Learning Disability Care Management Team.

1. ALERTS:

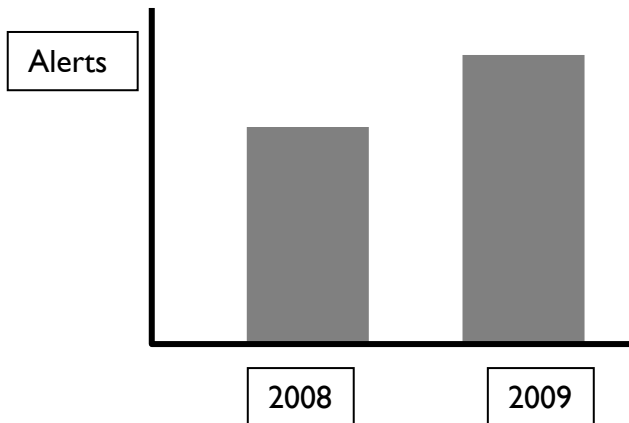

- Alerts are when the Care Management Team are told when some one with a learning disability has come to harm – or might have come to harm.

We can investigate and help stop it happening.

- April 2008 to April 2009, we had 201 alerts. We investigated 145 of those.
- 56 Alerts were checked by us and did not need further action. We have to make sure all

- Last year from April 2007 to April 2008 we had 187 alerts so the number has increased this year.

2. TYPES OF ABUSE:

- There have been 101 abuse alerts since the last report to the Partnership Board in October 2008.

- The biggest type of abuse we have investigated is physical abuse, when someone may have been hit, punched, pushed, or pulled.

We have investigated Physical abuse 44 times.

- We have investigated Psychological abuse 21 times.

- We have investigated Financial abuse 17 times.

- We have investigated Sexual abuse 12 times.

- We have investigated Neglect 3 times.

- We have investigated Discriminatory abuse 3 times.

- We have investigated Institutional Abuse, where more than one person is affected, 1 time.

3. RESPONSE LEVELS:

There are 4 levels of response investigation:

- Level 1 might be used if for example someone with a learning disability is pushed by another person at their service; it hasn't happened before and does not cause major harm or distress. The service provider would investigate.

There were 81 Level 1 investigations.

- Level 2 might be when this incident has happened before; CLDT would investigate and may review the person's service package to see if it is still right for them.

There were 10 Level 2 Investigations.

- Level 3 might be if the person was badly hurt or that the person who harmed them was a member of staff - CLDT and the Police may investigate.

There were 40 Level 3 Investigations

- Level 4 is like 3 but when a lot of people may have been harmed badly.

There were 10 Level 4 investigations from 1 alert where 10 people were involved.

4. PROTECTION PLANS:

- A Protection Plan is what we put in place if we think someone might have been abused.

It helps to keep them safe.

Some of the Protection Plans in place this year are:

- i. Making sure that people in a care home are being properly supported and have choices over how they live.

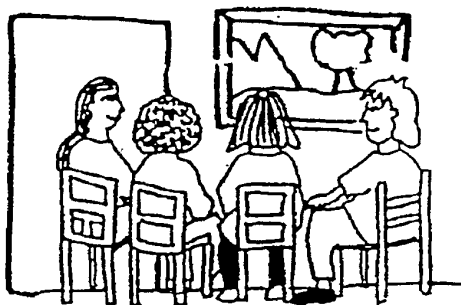

- ii. Using the police to stop other people using someone's flat and taking their money.

iii. We have worked with people who have an Individualised Budget where the money was not being used properly to provide support.

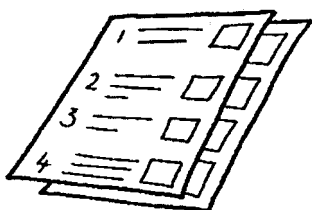

iv. Using the Care Quality Commission to inspect a care home to help with an investigation and outcome.

v. We have worked with a supported living service provider management team to make sure they support people properly.

5. Where Abuse Happens

- For each Alert we receive, we keep a record of where the abuse might have happened.

This is the list for 2008/09:

Residential Service	71 alerts
Supported Living Service	44 alerts
Clients Own Home	13 alerts
Day Service	13 alerts

In the Community (unsupported)	12 alerts
Respite Service	3 alerts
School/College	4 alerts
Family Home	7 alerts
Hospital	2 alerts
Other	6 alerts

5. OUTCOMES = WHAT HAPPENED

- From our investigations there were 74 times when we thought that abuse probably happened - this is called "substantiated".

- There were 34 times when we thought abuse didn't happen - this is "unsubstantiated".

- There were 19 times when we couldn't decide whether or not abuse had happened - this is "inconclusive".

- 18 investigations are carrying on from before April 2009.

The Community Learning Disability Team has continued to do more Safeguarding Investigations.

We think that people are now more aware of Safeguarding and who to talk to if they need help.

This means we are hopefully keeping more adults with a learning disability safer than we used to.
