Circles Network is a national voluntary organisation formed in 1994 with an educational objective to build inclusive communities. Our head office is in Rugby, UK, but we currently also have offices in Bristol, London, Cardiff, Glasgow and Northern Ireland.

Through facilitating the setting up of circles of support \(find out more\) we have provided support for many hundreds of disabled people in the UK. All of our work is based around the Values of Inclusion \(find out more\). In all of our forms of support, we make use of person centred planning \(click here to find out more\), so ensuring that the focus person is in control of every aspect of the planning of their lives.

Direct payments create more flexibility in the provision of social services. Giving money in place of social care services means people have greater choice and control over their lives, and are able to make their own decisions about how care is delivered.

We promote the rights, quality of life and opportunities of people with learning disabilities and their families.

We do this by working with people with learning disabilities, their families and those who support them to:

- do research and develop projects that promote social inclusion and citizenship
- support local communities and services to include people with learning disabilities
- make practical improvements in services for people with learning disabilities
- spread knowledge and information.
